ED'S NOTE . . .

Please don't come to us with "constructive criticism". Save it for next year's staff. We've done our best, and actually are proud to have gotten a yearbook out at all, in view of our overwhelming ignorance of yearbook organization.

The Pioneer has been planned to serve the students — not to promote the school or to win contests. Although dedicated, in appreciation, to the Student Association, the annual is dedicated in a wider sense to the entire student body.

We sincerely hope that we have fulfilled our intention.

J. A. H.

'Oft has it been said that only a staff truly appreciates its photographer. But others must have noticed genial head photo man Don Shebert missing lunches, cutting classes, attending dances with the ever present camera, and hanging by his heels from the arch.

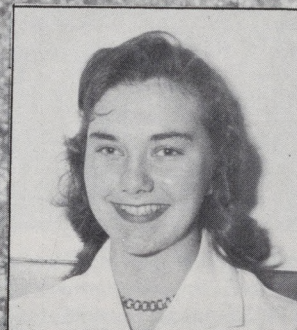

For all this — and much more . . .
Thanks, Don!

This forward has consistently been one of the high pointers of the game, a calm player, and a reliable ball player. J. C. Masters. High point man for the third consecutive year in collegiate and high school basketball competition, J. C. has always played an excellent game. Sam Fernandez. He started out the first part of the season and did a fine job. However, Cleo Beatty has played most of the season, and has been an alert, ball hawk player. Bill Ridgeway. Playing guard position since the beginning of the current season, has gained praise and recognition for his fine team work, shooting and floor work.

Harry Buckman prepares to let the discus go as he practices for a track meet.

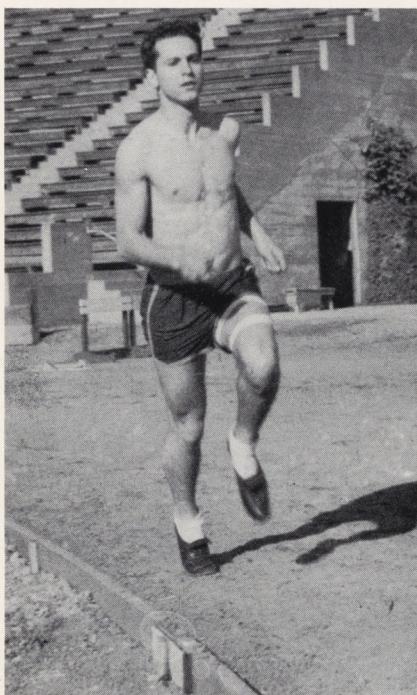

Always good for points, Cleo Beatty, has provided track followers with many thrills.

One of the best prepsters ever to be produced by the local coaches, Herb Jackson has taken an active part in the 100 and 200 yard sprints, plus the shot put.

Popular with his team mates for his funny antics, and the guy who takes your money at the end of the cafeteria line, Al Baeta has been a valuable, hard working, and point making star in the mile, half-mile, relay, and two-mile races.

Roy Carter, below and who graduated from San Juan, has been consistently high in the blue sky, as is evident by his high pole vaulting achievements. Roy is a fine competitor and has gone as high as 14 feet.

Endurance and speed, two of the main factors that go into making a good swimmer, are demonstrated in the photos!

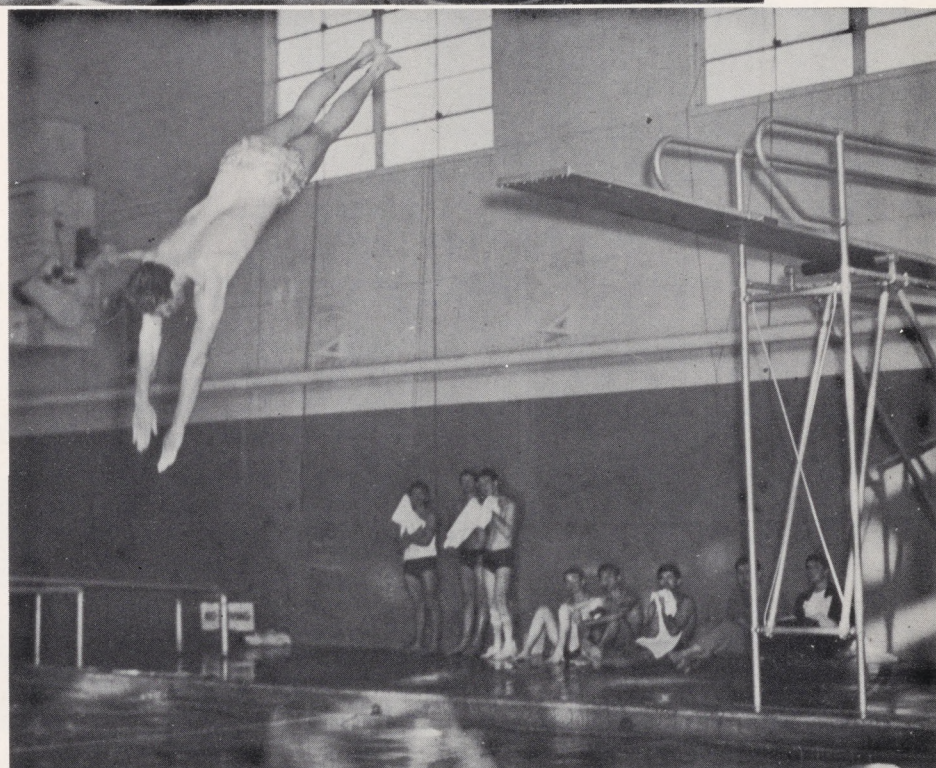

Local swimming fans realize that the S.J.C. team placed third in the conference in their first year of competition, last year were second.

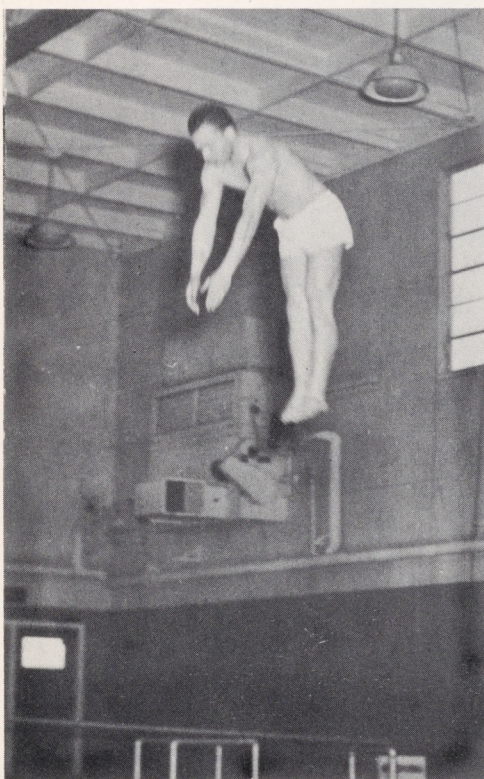

Bang! They're off in the JC pool to rack up points for the team.

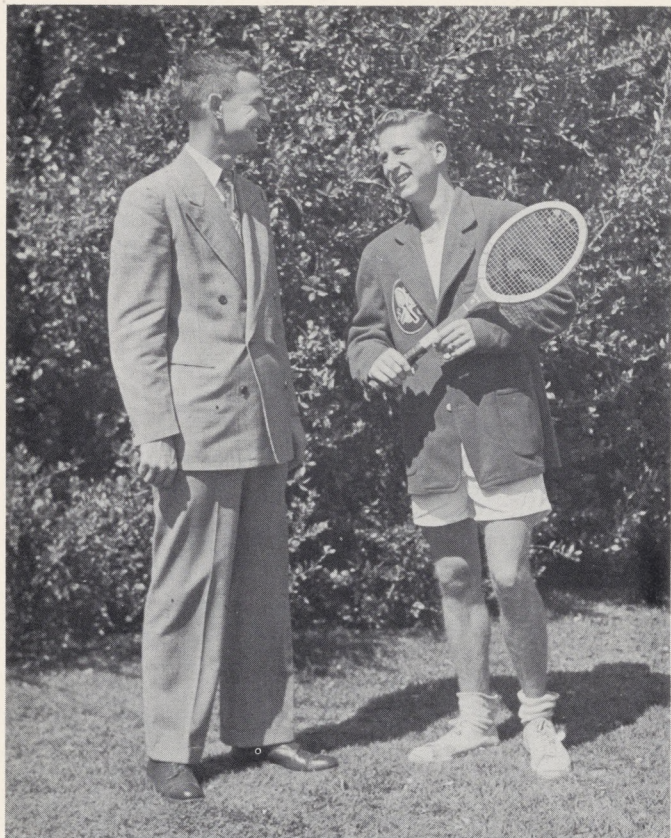

Larry Foster makes a smooth entrance into the cold water.

Hey, Jasper, are you going up or coming down!

Tennis

Head Tennis Coach Burt Carlson gives a few words of advice to Orvis Littke prior to a tennis match.

S. J. C. netsters, under the leadership of Burt Carlson, have won 85% of all the games they have played. Playing in one of the toughest tennis leagues in the country, the netsters have constantly held their own, capturing third in the Big Seven conference.

Women's Athletics

SACRAMENTO JUNIOR COLLEGE was host for the individual sports day, April 11, sponsored by the Extra-Mural League of Northern California. The league also sponsors swimming, field hockey, basketball, and volleyball. Among the other colleges in the league are Sacramento State College, University of California at Davis, College of Pacific, and Sierra College.

The purpose of the Extra-Mural League is to provide the girls with an opportunity to meet girls from other schools and to enjoy athletic events. No trophies, medals, or awards are given.

At the right, physical education students demonstrate some of the sports. Left to right: archery, badminton, golf, tennis, and volleyball.

J. C. coeds prepare for an afternoon of golf.

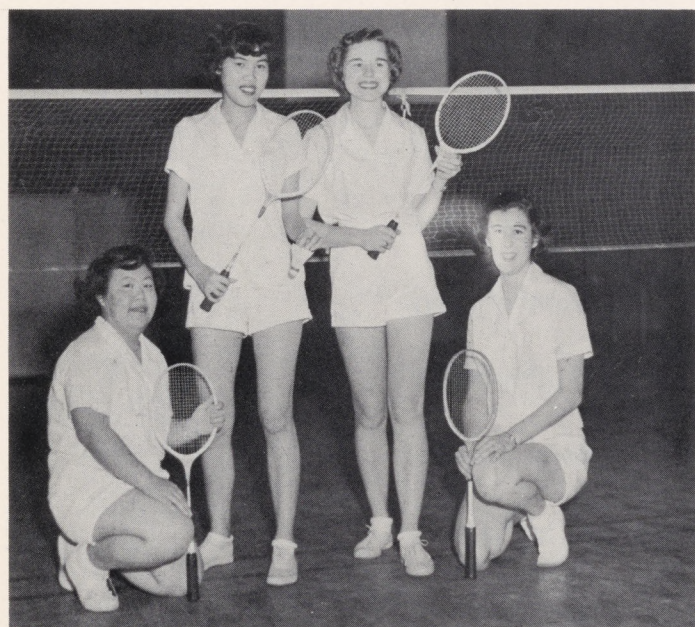

Shirley Marsh, Elaine Smith, Helen Zanetta, and Idella Snyder are preparing for a fast game of tennis.

The Women's Athletic Department is under the chairmanship of Miss Ruth Anderson. She is assisted by Miss Beth Hightower, Miss Donaldine Grass, and Mrs. Norma Prince.

Volleyball and archery provide the coeds with the necessary relaxation and recreation from their daily studies.

Pat Laughtin seems rather pleased that she missed the ball that Gail Irons is holding!

78 years we have had the privilege of watching Sacramento grow . . . and the pleasure of saluting graduating classes of Sacramento. We have beheld young men and women from all walks of life going forth, through these years, to seek their places in society armed with knowledge and ability ably developed. We have seen these young people contribute to the destiny of our fine city by making its progress an integral part of their own, by patiently building a better way of life for themselves, their children and their neighbors from the firm foundation of their learning.

now we congratulate you

You are Sacramento's citizens of tomorrow with all of your hopes and ambitions before you. The future is yours to fashion as you will, and in the world of today the task is not an easy one. However, with honest endeavor and steadfast pursuit of progressive purpose, we will proudly watch you add your mark to the measure of Sacramento's and the nation's growth.
